Client Profile

Our client is a major, fully integrated, food supplier to one of the leading retailers in Europe. The company enjoys a strong reputation for setting standards in the industry and is considered one of the leaders in Europe.

Director Tecnico - Industria Alimentaria - Iberia

We are selecting a seasoned “Director Tecnico” with experience in the food industry. Ideally you have experience managing and developing a technical team. You understand the technical market standards in food production and manage the company’s technical requirements for all purchases including food safety, quality, legality and ethical standards.

If you have been working within an international environment this is considered to be an advantage. The role requires a willingness to travel and a flexible approach to working hours.

Technical Responsibilities

- Implement the company’s technical strategy.
- Ensure the supplier base is aware of and compliant with international standards.
- Measure and monitor the performance of each supplier.
- Effective problem solving techniques to correct underperformance.
- Ensure that the technical performance of each supplier is accurately captured for the purpose of reviews.
- Improve communication processes with all teams (local & international) involved.
- Accurate gathering and storing of due diligence information.
- Training and motivation of technical team members.
- Commitment to deliver strategy by applying available resources to all areas involved.
- Manage the budget of the technical team in the area including administrative tasks.

Technical requirements

- Science based degree: Agriculture, Food Science/Technology.
- At least two to three years management experience.
- Four years experience in food industry, preferably with retailers.

Working experience and skills

For this role we require candidates to be fluent in Spanish and English. You are well known by food producers in the region, have procurement experience and significant working experience in manufacturing plants. Additionally, you possess leadership and planning skills, have previous experience with change management and pay attention to detail.
